The Star-Spangled Banner

Lyrics by Francis Scott Key

Music by John Stafford Smith

O say, can you see by the dawn's ear-ly light what so proud - ly we hailed at the twi-light's last gleam - ing? Whose broad stripes and bright stars thro' the per - il - ous fight o'er the ram - parts we watched were so gal - lant - ly stream-ing? And the rock - ets' red glare, the bombs burst-ing in air, gave proof thro' the night that our flag was still there. O say, does that star - spang - l'd ban - ner yet wave o'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

Alumni Association President

On behalf of the Middle Tennessee State University National Alumni Association, I congratulate you on joining our international network of more than 155,000 MTSU alumni. As a student, you embraced MTSU's core values of honesty and integrity, respect for diversity, engagement in the community, and commitment to nonviolence. As an alum, we hope that you represent our alma mater well throughout the world, actively contribute to your field, and are civically engaged.

Always be proud of the excellent education you received here and remain connected to your faculty and fellow alumni. Stay involved with the Alumni Association by following MTSU Alumni on social media, calling the Office of Alumni Relations at 1-800-533-MTSU (6878), and visiting mtalumni.com.

Take time today to reflect on how your life was changed while at MTSU and celebrate the hard work you put in to earn your degree. Congratulations again!

Morning Address

Dr. Peggy Chabrian

Founder, Women in Aviation International

Owner, Chabrian Aviation

Peggy Chabrian, a longtime aviation enthusiast and educator, is the founder of Women in Aviation International (WAI) and served as its president and CEO for 25 years. The organization was incorporated in 1994, a result of the success of the annual Women in Aviation Conference, which started with 150 participants in 1990 and had grown to more than 5,000 attendees when Chabrian stepped down in 2019. WAI represents over 15,000 women and men from all segments of the aviation industry. More than $13 million in scholarships were awarded during her tenure.

Chabrian has held several top positions in aviation education: academic dean and associate vice president of Parks College, Saint Louis University; dean of academic support at Embry Riddle Aeronautical University's campus in Prescott, Arizona; assistant professor and director of the Center of Excellence for Aviation/Space Education at Embry Riddle's campus in Daytona Beach, Florida; and aviation department chair at Georgia State University in Atlanta.

She was the publisher of Aviation for Women magazine for 21 years and Aviation for Girls magazine for seven years. She currently owns Chabrian Aviation and serves as an adjunct faculty member for Liberty University's School of Aeronautics.

Chabrian was enshrined into the National Aviation Hall of Fame in September 2024 during a ceremony at the National Museum of the United States Air Force. She also received the MTSU Distinguished Alumni Award this fall. Other honors include the National Aeronautics Association's Brewer Award for Aviation Education, the Wesley McDonald Distinguished Statesman and Stateswoman of Aviation Award, and the FAA Administrator's Award for Excellence in Aviation Education.

A 2,800-hour commercial/instrument multi-engine pilot and flight instructor, Chabrian has been flying for over 40 years. She also holds helicopter and seaplane ratings. She currently enjoys flying her Cessna 150.

Chabrian received her bachelor's degree in Aviation Management and master's in Aerospace Education from Middle Tennessee State University in 1980. She completed her Ed.D. degree from the University of Tennessee in 1985.

An international speaker, Chabrian has given numerous keynote and motivational presentations to hundreds of audiences. She has also authored numerous articles and a textbook on aviation management.

Afternoon Address

Byron Smith

Managing Director, Mountain Group Partners

Byron Smith is a 1984 graduate of MTSU, where he double-majored in Economics and Political Science. He earned his M.B.A. from the Booth School of Business at the University of Chicago with an emphasis in Economics and Strategic Planning.

After graduation, Smith demonstrated what curiosity and lifelong learning can mean for a career. He began his career in brand management and marketing for two premier companies: Procter & Gamble and Pepsico. After almost a decade of rapid career advancement, Smith transitioned into the wireless industry with GTE (now Verizon), rising to run its North American operations. After his stint as a leader during the rapid growth years of wireless telecommunications, he moved to Silicon Valley to be the head of operations and marketing for the very first national consumer broadband internet company. Smith then became an advisor and eventually a senior executive at Asurion and led its headquarters relocation from Silicon Valley to Nashville.

For the past 15 years, Smith has been a managing director at Mountain Group Partners, an early-stage venture capital firm. He currently serves on the boards of Silicon Ranch, AngelEye, ReVida Recovery, AirVet, Verility, and In The Bowl Animal Health.

Smith is also active in the nonprofit world. He serves on the boards of trustees at Montgomery Bell Academy and the Intercollegiate Studies Institute. He is the former board chair of both The Trinity Forum in Washington, D.C., and St. Paul Christian Academy in Nashville. He served on the board of the Adventure Science Center in Nashville and was a member of Leadership Nashville.

As a student at MTSU, Smith was active in all parts of campus life. He was a member of the Kappa Alpha Order; chairman of Kappa Alpha's Province for Tennessee, Kentucky, and Arkansas; and president of the Interfraternity Council. He marched in the Band of Blue. He was president of the Sigma Club (male honor society) and president of the College Republicans. Smith was the first undergraduate to be a dorm director at MTSU, leading Gore Hall. He was honored as MTSU's Outstanding Student in Economics and as a Most Outstanding Senior, and he was active in the MTSU Honors program.

Smith and his wife, Beth, have three children—Colin, Abby, and Andrew—who are all thriving at the University of Notre Dame.

Mace and Chain of Office

Originally a medieval knight's weapon, the mace evolved into a symbol of royal scepters in various crown jewel collections. Large versions of the scepter have come to represent the power and authority of institutions such as our University. The mace measures 50 inches in length and is made of Tennessee cherry wood embellished with sterling silver and lapis lazuli. The Tennessee flower, the iris, denotes the public the University serves who, by their loyalty, give it strength and power. The leaves form a crown to symbolize the ennobling achievements of our graduates. Tennessee freshwater pearls, the official state gem, suggest the inestimable value of inquiring minds. The streamer on the wooden shaft carries the names by which the University has been known since its founding. The finial at the base of the mace is a stylized nut, representing the seed from which springs the mighty tree of those committed to lifelong learning.

The chain of office worn by the president is made of sterling silver. The lapis lazuli gems, mounted on scroll shapes, represent the colleges within the University. The knotted components depict the interdependence of knowledge and the various academic programs of MTSU. The lapis lazuli and sterling represent the University colors of blue and white. The Great Seal of the State of Tennessee embellishes the medallion suspended from the chain, representing the University as part of the Tennessee higher education system.

These unique emblems of authority were designed and crafted by Professor Klaus Kallenberger, formerly of the Art Department. The mace and chain of office are a generous gift to the University from the MTSU Foundation.

MACE BEARERS

Morning

M. Elizabeth Barnes is an assistant professor in the Biology Department, where her research group studies ways to teach and communicate about contentious science topics in ways that reduce societal conflict. She received her Ph.D. at Arizona State University, where, as a National Science Foundation Graduate Research Fellow, she began studying ways to ameliorate conflict between evolution and religion in college biology classes. For this work, she was recognized by the National Association of Biology Teachers (NABT).

At MTSU, she has continued her commitment to paving the way for humane and responsible science communication about other contentious topics, such as vaccines during the COVID-19 pandemic and, most recently, climate change. This body of work culminated in her receiving the prestigious National Science Foundation CAREER award, which recognizes and funds only the top researchers in their fields who have shown promise for continuing to build knowledge and make broader impacts on society.

Barnes is now focused on training the next generation of scientists in responsible and effective science communication. Her hope and underlying motivation for her research is to foster a society that approaches disagreement and contention with curiosity, intellectual humility, and a drive for understanding one another rather than a drive to tear one another down.

Afternoon

Francis T. Koti is a geography professor in the Department of Political and Global Affairs. He believes that his primary goal in the classroom is to develop students' ability to think about the big picture, make spatial connections about Earth phenomena, develop logical arguments to support their ideas, and ask the right questions.

Koti's teaching contributions at MTSU in the last few years include introduction of new courses, revision of existing courses, creation and execution of a new study abroad program to Tanzania, integration of Geographic Information Systems (GIS) into existing courses, addition of field components into courses, and collaborative teaching with colleagues.

He submitted a grant proposal to establish a GIS lab in his department, established a "Global Engagement" digital badge for MTSU students, revived the Gamma Theta Upsilon (GTU) chapter at MTSU, and negotiated and established a paid planning internship at the Murfreesboro City Planning Department.

An urban geographer, Koti's research revolves around the use of GIS within participatory methodological frameworks to understand urbanization processes. He holds a Ph.D. and master's degree in Geography from West Virginia University. He earned his bachelor's degree at Kenyatta University in Nairobi, Kenya.

Academic Regalia

The black gowns and colorful hoods traditionally worn in Middle Tennessee State University Commencement ceremonies have their origins in the Middle Ages.

A statute in England in 1321 required that all “Doctors, Licentiates, and Bachelors” wear gowns. In the second half of the 14th century, the statutes of certain colleges forbade “excess in apparel” and prescribed the wearing of a long gown. Scholars were often clerics, as well, and they adopted costumes similar to those of monastic orders. While the special attire covered rank or social status, thus lending a uniform look to ceremonies, it also served another purpose: warmth in drafty, unheated buildings.

As the universities began to pass from the control of the church, colors often were added to the somber robes and hoods, eventually signifying the degrees and specializations.

The cut of the gown, which is usually black, also varies with the degree held—pointed sleeves for the bachelor’s degree; long, closed sleeves with a slit in the arm for the master’s degree; and round, open sleeves for the doctoral degree. While the bachelor’s and master’s gowns have no ornamentation, the doctoral gown is faced down the front with velvet and has three velvet bars across the sleeves.

At Middle Tennessee, hoods are worn by holders of the master’s and doctoral degrees, with the latter being longer. Hoods are lined with the official colors of the universities that conferred the degrees; thus, holders of degrees from MTSU wear hoods lined in blue and white. The velvet edging on the hood, and often the velvet edging on the gown, represents the wearer’s major academic field. Further, the velvet bars on the sleeves may be either black or the same color as the discipline color of the hood. Colors associated with various subjects follow:

Agriculture - Maize
Arts, Letters, Humanities - White
Commerce, Accountancy, Business - Drab
Criminal Justice - Midnight Blue
Economics - Copper
Education - Light Blue
Fine Arts - Brown
Home Economics - Maroon
Journalism - Crimson
Law - Purple
Library Science - Lemon
Music - Pink
Nursing - Apricot
Oratory (Speech) - Silver Gray
Philosophy - Dark Blue

Physical Education - Sage Green
Public Health - Salmon
Science - Gold
Social Work - Citron

The black cap, either a mortarboard or a tam, is customarily worn. There is no general rule for the position of the tassel. In practice at Middle Tennessee State University, the tassel is worn on the right. It may be shifted to the left after the degree is awarded. Men may remove their caps during the prayer, the playing of the alma mater, and the commencement address.

Undergraduate Latin honor graduates are distinguished by the stoles added to their gowns based upon the inclusive GPA: gold for those graduating summa cum laude, 3.90 to 4.0; silver for magna cum laude, 3.75 to 3.89; and white for cum laude, 3.50 to 3.74.

Graduating from the University Honors College is an additional merit awarded to students who have completed the Honors program, defended a thesis, and have a cumulative grade point average of 3.25 or higher. Graduates of the University Honors College who have completed at least 29 hours with a 3.25 average in the Honors program will receive blue and white cords. Those who have maintained a minimum average of 3.65 in the Honors program are graduating the University Honors College with distinction.

Since 1993, graduates of the University Honors College have received the official Honors medallion in recognition of their final thesis defense and completion of special requirements of the college. The medallion is a replica of the official seal of the University Honors College and depicts a lighted torch, three Ionic columns, and a lightning bolt. Respectively, these symbolize the search for truth and knowledge, the stability and unwavering commitment to pursuing knowledge, and the flash of enlightenment or creative energy.

Some academic honor societies and programs may provide cords, ribbons, medallions, or lapel pins designating the achievement and involvement of their members.

Military veteran students are distinguished by specially designed red stoles in recognition of their admirable service to their country.

Experiential Learning Scholars are distinguished by blue, silver, and white cords. These scholars completed EXL-designated hands-on learning courses, an off-campus service activity, an on-campus service activity, and a portfolio of reflections on their EXL activities. The EXL program provides students with opportunities for hands-on experience, valuable networking, and an opportunity to explore career paths through real-world experience.

MT Engage Scholars are distinguished by royal blue, white, and gold cords. These students completed MT Engage-designated courses that promote active learning and integrated their learning by reflecting on connections across disciplines and between their academic and cocurricular experiences. MT Engage students showcased their integrative learning in an ePortfolio that documented their community and campus involvement as well as the academic knowledge and skills they gained during their time at MTSU.

International students may wear colorful sashes that represent their country of origin. Each sash symbolizes, in color and design, their country's flag.

Undergraduate Research students graduating with Distinction are wearing a dark blue, light blue, and white cord. These students graduating with Scholar Distinction are also wearing a medallion to recognize their completion of a research or creative project, its dissemination to the MTSU campus and/or a nationally recognized conference, and their engagement in promoting undergraduate research to the campus.

Most American colleges and universities have adopted a uniform code. However, at any academic gathering, costumes often are worn that are not described by these guidelines. Some of these may be from foreign universities, with others from American institutions that have preferred to remain with the European tradition of allowing each school to determine its own costume. Silver medallions worn by faculty denote 15 years of service, gold medallions represent 25 years, and blue and gold medallions represent 35 or more years of service.

Academic Banners

The banners displayed at Commencement represent the University; its nine colleges (Basic and Applied Sciences, Behavioral and Health Sciences, Business, Education, Liberal Arts, Media and Entertainment, Graduate Studies, University College, and University Honors); Walker Library; and the Faculty Senate. Art Professor Janet Higgins, her student Kristi Baughman, and Darrell Callis Burks, designer in Creative and Visual Services and 2000 B.F.A. graduate, designed and executed the banners. The colors used in each banner represent disciplines within the colleges. The University seal appears in the center of each banner, symbolizing that the whole is greater than any of its parts.
