Morning Address

Dr. Chris Whaley

President of Roane State Community College

Chris Whaley serves as the fifth president of Roane State Community College, which has more than 4,700 students across nine locations. He is also an alumnus of Roane State, as well as Middle Tennessee State University and the University of Tennessee. Previously, he served as vice president of student learning; dean of social science, business, and education; and program director of Paralegal Studies at Roane State, where he has taught since 1997.

Whaley earned his A.A. at Roane State, his B.S. at MTSU, and his J.D. at the University of Tennessee College of Law. He is licensed to practice law in Tennessee and has been a Rule 31 civil mediator.

He serves on several boards including the Roane Alliance, the Tennessee Valley Corridor, Mid-East Community Action Agency, and the National Association for Community College Entrepreneurship.

Whaley and his wife, Cindy, live in Harriman, Tennessee, and are the parents of Jonathan and Tori.

Afternoon Address

Mr. Brady Cooper

Senior Pastor, New Vision Baptist Church

Brady Cooper has served in the role of senior pastor at New Vision Baptist Church in Murfreesboro for 27 years. He is widely respected for his faith-driven leadership, his passion for mentoring the next generation of leaders, and his gift for helping people connect the timeless truths of Scripture to everyday life.

A native of Murfreesboro, Cooper graduated from Riverdale High School in 1988 and went on to earn a Bachelor of Science in Biblical Studies and Ministry from Belmont University in 1993, where he was a four-year letterman on the baseball team.

He continued his education at The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, Kentucky, where he earned his Master of Divinity.

Outside the pulpit, Cooper enjoys fishing and spending time with his wife, Amy, and their two grandchildren, Bradford and Charlotte.

Mace and Chain of Office

Originally a medieval knight's weapon, the mace evolved into a symbol of royal scepters in various crown jewel collections. Large versions of the scepter have come to represent the power and authority of institutions such as our University. The mace measures 50 inches in length and is made of Tennessee cherry wood embellished with sterling silver and lapis lazuli. The Tennessee flower, the iris, denotes the public the University serves who, by their loyalty, give it strength and power. The leaves form a crown to symbolize the ennobling achievements of our graduates. Tennessee freshwater pearls, the official state gem, suggest the inestimable value of inquiring minds. The streamer on the wooden shaft carries the names by which the University has been known since its founding. The finial at the base of the mace is a stylized nut, representing the seed from which springs the mighty tree of those committed to lifelong learning.

The chain of office worn by the president is made of sterling silver. The lapis lazuli gems, mounted on scroll shapes, represent the colleges within the University. The knotted components depict the interdependence of knowledge and the various academic programs of MTSU. The lapis lazuli and sterling represent the University colors of blue and white. The Great Seal of the State of Tennessee embellishes the medallion suspended from the chain, representing the University as part of the Tennessee higher education system.

These unique emblems of authority were designed and crafted by Professor Klaus Kallenberger, formerly of the Department of Art. The mace and chain of office are a generous gift to the University from the MTSU Foundation.

MACE BEARERS

Morning

Dr. C. Rebecca Oldham ("Dr. O") is an assistant professor in Human Development and Family Science (HDFS). As a romantic relationships expert, she prioritizes connection and support in research and teaching. She has mentored high school, undergraduate, and graduate researchers and served on dissertation committees in the field of sex and relationships. In 2022, she received the Emerging Teacher/Mentor Award from the National Council on Family Relations.

Oldham's teaching focuses on fostering healthy relationships and communities. In her Violence in the Family course, she strengthens MTSU-community connections through service learning and hosting Q&A panels with local professionals so the public can learn about domestic violence, child abuse, and elder abuse prevention and intervention.

Oldham experiments with high-impact practices, such as project-based learning, student-led learning, and flipped classrooms, and she and her HDFS colleagues have replaced expensive textbooks with open educational resources. She was recognized with MTSU's Outstanding Teaching Award in 2025.

She is faculty advisor and co-founder of the HDFS student organization, the Middle Tennessee Council on Family Relations, and is an Engage advisory board member.

Afternoon

Ms. Kate Goodwin teaches and mentors both the stage management and theatre education students in MTSU's Department of Theatre and Dance. An MTSU alumna, Goodwin began her career teaching theatre at the Nashville School for the Arts.

The pursuit of her M.F.A. in Theatre: Stage Management from the University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign led to an exciting array of opportunities, including touring internationally with The Builders Association production of Continuous City. After graduate school, she served in various production and educational capacities with theatre companies in Tennessee and Kentucky. She has stage-managed for the Nashville Shakespeare Festival, co-created Play Space—a URECA and Tennessee Arts Commission grant-supported new play development workshop—guided MTSU Theatre's collaboration with the Farm Project's The Ruminants, and is now serving on the board of the newly created Tennessee Theatre Educators Association.

Goodwin also has a long history with the Tennessee Governor's School for the Arts (GSFTA), having started as a counselor in 1997. She was named the director in 2022.

In 2025, she was recognized with MTSU's Outstanding Teaching Award.

Academic Regalia

The black gowns and colorful hoods traditionally worn in Middle Tennessee State University Commencement ceremonies have their origins in the Middle Ages.

A statute in England in 1321 required that all “Doctors, Licentiates, and Bachelors” wear gowns. In the second half of the 14th century, the statutes of certain colleges forbade “excess in apparel” and prescribed the wearing of a long gown. Scholars were often clerics, as well, and they adopted costumes similar to those of monastic orders. While the special attire covered rank or social status, thus lending a uniform look to ceremonies, it also served another purpose: warmth in drafty, unheated buildings.

As the universities began to pass from the control of the church, colors often were added to the somber robes and hoods, eventually signifying the degrees and specializations.

The cut of the gown, which is usually black, also varies with the degree held—pointed sleeves for the bachelor’s degree; long, closed sleeves with a slit in the arm for the master’s degree; and round, open sleeves for the doctoral degree. While the bachelor’s and master’s gowns have no ornamentation, the doctoral gown is faced down the front with velvet and has three velvet bars across the sleeves.

At Middle Tennessee, hoods are worn by holders of the master’s and doctoral degrees, with the latter being longer. Hoods are lined with the official colors of the universities that conferred the degrees; thus, holders of degrees from MTSU wear hoods lined in blue and white. The velvet edging on the hood, and often the velvet edging on the gown, represents the wearer’s major academic field. Further, the velvet bars on the sleeves may be either black or the same color as the discipline color of the hood. Colors associated with various subjects follow:

Agriculture - Maize
Arts, Letters, Humanities - White
Commerce, Accountancy, Business - Drab
Criminal Justice - Midnight Blue
Economics - Copper
Education - Light Blue
Fine Arts - Brown
Home Economics - Maroon
Journalism - Crimson
Law - Purple
Library Science - Lemon

Music - Pink
Nursing - Apricot
Oratory (Speech) - Silver Gray
Philosophy - Dark Blue
Physical Education - Sage Green
Public Health - Salmon
Science - Gold
Social Work - Citron

The black cap, either a mortarboard or a tam, is customarily worn. There is no general rule for the position of the tassel. In practice at Middle Tennessee State University, the tassel is worn on the right. It may be shifted to the left after the degree is awarded. Men may remove their caps during the prayer, the playing of the alma mater, and the commencement address.

Undergraduate Latin honor graduates are distinguished by the stoles added to their gowns based upon the inclusive GPA: gold for those graduating summa cum laude, 3.90 to 4.0; silver for magna cum laude, 3.75 to 3.89; and white for cum laude, 3.50 to 3.74.

Graduating from the University Honors College is an additional merit awarded to students who have completed the Honors program, defended a thesis, and have a cumulative grade point average of 3.25 or higher. Graduates of the University Honors College who have completed at least 29 hours with a 3.25 average in the Honors program will receive blue and white cords. Those who have maintained a minimum average of 3.65 in the Honors program are graduating the University Honors College with distinction.

Since 1993, graduates of the University Honors College have received the official Honors medallion in recognition of their final thesis defense and completion of special requirements of the college. The medallion is a replica of the official seal of the University Honors College and depicts a lighted torch, three Ionic columns, and a lightning bolt. Respectively, these symbolize the search for truth and knowledge, the stability and unwavering commitment to pursuing knowledge, and the flash of enlightenment or creative energy.

Some academic honor societies and programs may provide cords, ribbons, medallions, or lapel pins designating the achievement and involvement of their members.

Military veteran students are distinguished by specially designed red stoles in recognition of their admirable service to their country.

Experiential Learning Scholars are distinguished by blue, silver, and white cords. These scholars completed EXL-designated hands-on learning courses, an off-campus service activity, an on-campus service activity, and a portfolio of reflections on their EXL activities. The EXL program provides students with opportunities for hands-on experience, valuable networking, and an opportunity to explore career paths through real-world experience.

MT Engage Scholars are distinguished by royal blue, white, and gold cords. These students completed MT Engage-designated courses that promote active learning and integrated their learning by reflecting on connections across disciplines and between their academic and cocurricular experiences. MT Engage students showcased their integrative learning in an ePortfolio that documented their community and campus involvement as well as the academic knowledge and skills they gained during their time at MTSU.

International students may wear colorful sashes that represent their country of origin. Each sash symbolizes, in color and design, their country's flag.

Undergraduate Research students graduating with Distinction are wearing a dark blue, light blue, and white cord. These students graduating with Scholar Distinction are also wearing a medallion to recognize their completion of a research or creative project, its dissemination to the MTSU campus and/or a nationally recognized conference, and their engagement in promoting undergraduate research to the campus.

Most American colleges and universities have adopted a uniform code. However, at any academic gathering, costumes often are worn that are not described by these guidelines. Some of these may be from foreign universities, with others from American institutions that have preferred to remain with the European tradition of allowing each school to determine its own costume. Silver medallions worn by faculty denote 15 years of service, gold medallions represent 25 years, and blue and gold medallions represent 35 or more years of service.

Academic Banners

The banners carried and displayed at Commencement represent the University; its nine colleges (Basic and Applied Sciences, Behavioral and Health Sciences, Business, Education, Liberal Arts, Media and Entertainment, Graduate Studies, University College, and University Honors); Walker Library; and the Faculty Senate. Art Professor Janet Higgins, her student Kristi Baughman, and Darrell Callis Burks, designer in Creative and Visual Services and 2000 B.F.A. graduate, designed and executed the banners. The colors used in each banner represent disciplines within the colleges. The University seal appears in the center of each banner, symbolizing that the whole is greater than any of its parts.
